IN SEARCH OF . . .

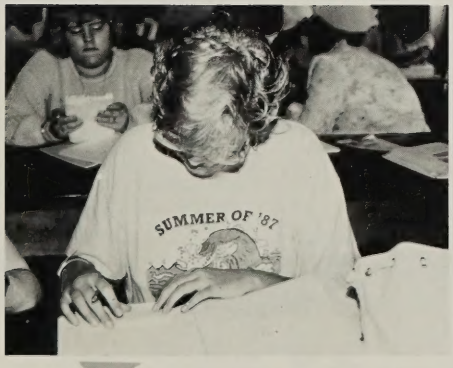
It is once again a weekday morning and as you get out of your car or off the bus you think to yourself, "HAHAHA, I did it again, I fooled my parents."

Yes, once again you have fooled your parents into thinking that you have come to the red brick building to learn. The learning part is really a cover-up for the true motive, to socialize with your friends. It is a good cover-up because you don't have your parents asking questions like: "Where have you been?", "What were you doing there?", or "Didn't I tell you not to go there again?". See with this cover, your parents know where you are, what you were doing (or at least what you were supposed to be doing), and parents would never dream of telling you not to go there.

Yes, sitting in class is just a cover for why you're really there. You're there In Search of ... THE GOOD TIMES, but don't tell your parents that. And by all means, keep your grades up so no one can question your true motives, or see through your alibi.



THE GOOD TIMES!!!

WE LOVE YOU BOTH!

In memory of Lee and Casey, the class of 1989 leave this final memoriam:

To two of the greatest friends that we've ever had. You may not be here in body, but you will always be with us in spirit and in memory. There is no way that we could ever forget you and we await the day that we will again be as one. You are, and always will be, a true part of the Class of 1989.

Class of 89:

You are entering the final year of this decade and you are the last of your kind. You are the final class of the 1980's. You are experiencing the search for . . . The Final Frontier.

Throughout high school you may have had troubles, and gotten out of them, but in the next year of your life, you will be faced with many obstacles from which you cannot hide. Decisions such as college, marriage, military, working, or even moving away and deciding how you want to live, (and how you are going to be able to do it.), will be weighing heavily on your shoulders. It is now time for you to move on and face the real world, not knowing what may lie ahead.

So reach out, and fulfill your dreams, for one day you will look back only to remember the good times and good friends that move you onto "The Final Frontier."

COLLECT YOUR REWARD!

The student body of Pocahontas High School have offered a reward of $1,000,000 to any person or persons who can locate a more dedicated or caring faculty and staff than those here at P.H.S.

Requirements that must be satisfied to collect the reward are:

1) A principal and assistant principal who are friendly and on a more understanding basis than ours.

2) A faculty more committed to developing the minds of "Tommorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow . . ."

3) A staff more dedicated to assisting with any and all difficulties students may encounter.

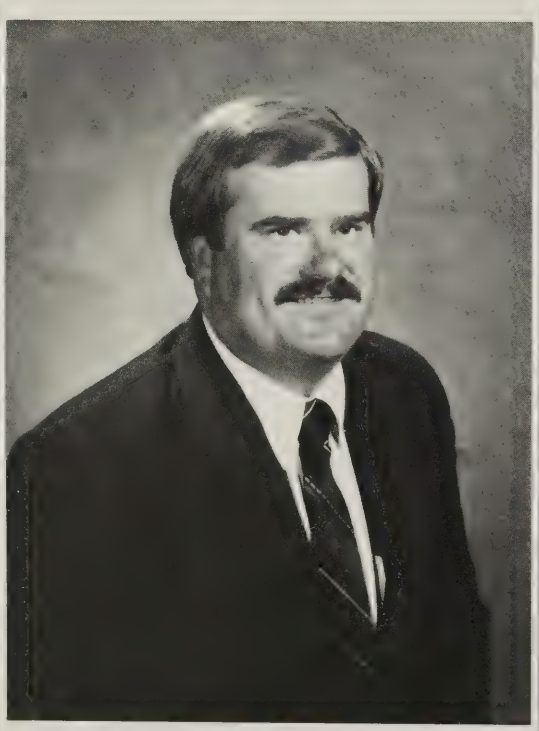
4) Leaders, teachers, coaches, bus drivers, and custodians with more school spirit or with more respect and support for the student body.

It is highly unlikely that these requirements can be met more fully than at P.H.S.

And so we would like to extend our thanks and appreciation for all the help, direction, and examples you give . . . day after day . . . year after year . . .

IN SEARCH OF . . .

Mrs. Bessie Walker
Principal



Mr. Michael Hankins
Assistant Principal

The search is now over. Look no further for the perfect administration. The team of Mrs. Walker and Mr. Hankins, as principal and assistant principal, can't be beat.

Mrs. Walker has finished her second dedicated year of leading the school. This year was no different than any of the other many years that she has served as an administrator at Pocahontas, Mrs. Walker showed by her caring example how to forcefully lead yet patiently allow for mistakes.

No doubt, Mr. Hankins entered his first year of administration with fears and apprehensions. Amidst the students and faculty fears and doubts also were present. However, it rapidly became evident that there was a natural chemistry between Mr. Hankins and the students, faculty and especially Mrs. Walker.

The end result of combining the skills and experience of Mrs. Walker with energy and enthusiasm of Mr. Hankins was the perfect administration that was being searched for. An administration full of CARING . . . An administration capable of fulfilling Pocahontas High School's potential.

A CARING

TRATION

Our Secretary . . . Mrs. D.

Secretaries like Mrs. Daugherty are few and Far between.
Everyone will be sad to see such a cheerful
And warm person retire from Pocahontas High.
But she will never be forgotten.
Mrs. D., the search will be long and hard
To find a secretary as great as you!!!

No alarm clocks, no supplying chalk and Paper clips and staples, no reports to type
No receipts to write, no money to count
Oh the life of retirement. Kind of sounds Boring?
Only fishing and camping and sleeping
And resting.
Then again . . . sounds great to us.
We hope all your years will be happy
And productive.

With our love,
The Student Body

Best Wishes!

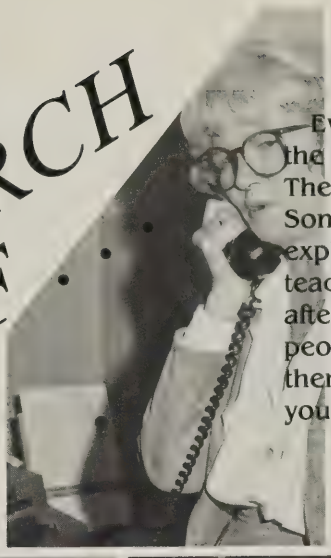
IN SEARCH OF TEACHERS WHO CARE



Everyday when these individuals come to work they show us, the students at P.H.S., that they care about us and our future. The teachers have different ways of showing us that they care. Some show their care by coming early in the mornings to explain work to the students who do not understand. Other teachers show us they care by spending time with the students after school to coach them in sports. We appreciate all of these people and we would like to take this opportunity to thank them. We thank you all for not only caring, but for spending your lives to make ours better.

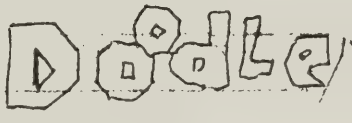
UNDERCLASSMEN



Creative! Unique! Imaginative! These are only a few of the many ways the students at P.H.S. can be described. Sure learning is important, but so is personal expression; and what better way to show that expression than doodling. It's one of America's favorite pastimes, and it says a lot about the person who does it. Before you look at the underclass and vocational students on the next few pages, take a peek at the drawings some of them have done. You may be surprised at what you learn about your best friend just by watching him doodle.

IN SEARCH OF . . .

The first year of high school is here and now your academic credits start to count for graduation. You start to worry about your grades, how you look, or if that girl or guy likes you. This is a time of change, but is also the beginning of the best days of your life. Make the best of it. Try not to worry: be happy!

. . .YOURSELF!

No more Junior High, these guys are ready for the big time. While their school won't change, many aspects of it will. Classes and grades really count now. Sports are tougher too. But this class can handle it. No problem! Looking forward to their high school years, the eighth grade students foresee a lot of good times. The class of 1993; in search of new accomplishments.

Pocy High!

Welcome to the World of Clubs and Activities

Ask any student, who is a member of a club or participates in one of the activities at P.H.S., if they have any free time, and they'll probably say: "Free time! I'm too busy with my clubs (or activities) to know what that means." That is because the world of clubs and activities is busy, busy, busy.

"Busy!?!," one might ask incredulously, "people only participate in clubs or activities just to get their picture in the annual." Wrong! People participate in order to make new friends, meet new people, spend more time with the friends they already have, or fill up their empty time doing something worthwhile.

"Worthwhile," someone might ask, "clubs and other things like that don't do anything worthwhile." If people would look around, they might see members of some club selling things to raise money. Once they raise the money, the clubs usually do something that will benefit the citizens of the area in some way, even though it may not be too noticeable right away.

So remember, support the clubs and activities at P.H.S.

Of all the things we ever lost, we miss our minds the most.

Decisions, decisions, decisions. Everyone has to make them, and the ones made by the Yearbook Staff have enormous time and consideration put into them. The small group meets every day during fifth period to discuss ideas for pictures, page designs, and copy. Each one brainstorms, and for the most part, comes up with some pretty interesting and unique ideas.

This group, headed by Mr. Gary Lane, hopes to make this yearbook the best and most original creation ever designed by Pocahontas High Students. You have the final product. As you read it, and decide on its quality for yourself, try and appreciate the work behind the scenes. But most of all . . . ENJOY IT!!!

The Student Council Association did a great job this year. These elected people started the year out right by holding a mock election with the help of their sponsor Mr. Bruce Wright. They also sponsored the 1988 Homecoming Dance, which was attended by a large portion of the student body. The search for student leadership is over because these students were more than qualified.

Lois Lane and Staff . . . Waiting for Superman?

Sometimes, for students and teachers the daily routine doesn't end at 3:15. Personal interests and school oriented services keep many of our students busy throughout the year. Our FBLA members work after hours in competition with other business students throughout the region. They highlight their activities by attending the FBLA state convention each year. To keep you informed on happenings throughout the school, the paper staff busily works to update us on the news and events and activities at P.H.S. Coordinating the activities of both groups is Barbara Wyrick of our business department. The work done by these groups, and the direction of Ms. Wyrick, is beneficial experience in becoming part of the real business world.

Towards New Horizons

"A woman's work is never done." While times and society have changed the meaning of this cliche, the moral remains the same. Running a home while raising a family and shuffling a job compound a woman's present day role, Doris Ross and Brenda Johnson prepare our ladies for the multiple roles most will fulfill after graduation.

Under the direction of Rita Haun, the speech and drama students learn the techniques and art of communication. The ability to perform and speak in front of other people are life-long rewards of such a class. Through the complaints of present students, echo the thanks of former students.

GOVERNOR'S SCHOOL

Jamie Asbury, Tracy Carter, Chris Harold, Cassandra Sabo

"What is Governor's School," you may ask. Governor's School is a program in which the participants spend up to six weeks attending a school during the summer. There are two types of Governor's School. One type has participants come each day, and then return home after their day is over. The other type has participants stay at a college from one to six weeks depending on the subject that they plan to have at the school. During the time spent at Governor's School students attend classes, which are unlike any regular class; and they also participate in extra activities in which they may experience different events that they may not have experienced before; some of the events may include the attendance of an opera or a musical.

If you would ask any one of the four, who attended Governor's School during the summer of 1988, if they had a good time, they might say; "Yes, it was an experience that I will never forget."

PROJECT DISCOVERY

J. Gillespie, M. Hypes, J. Gibson, S. Hess, S. Williams, S. Rigney, C. Sabo, J. Wyatt, K. Maxwell, R. Payne, D. Billings, C. Sabo

Project Discovery is an activity, under the direction of Tammy Muir, that benefits any eligible student from grade 9-12. The group meets twice a month to participate in workshops on various topics. Some of the workshop topics have included how to study better, how to pick a college, and goal setting. This group not only has workshops, but they also visit many colleges; some of the colleges have included Emory and Henry, Virginia Tech, Bluefield College, and Queens College. Sometimes, when on a college visit, the group can attend a ball game. Each school in the county has a Project Discovery, and the participating students get to visit college campuses, attend informative workshops, and if they are really good, attend special activities such as a performance by a Yugoslavian dance team.

UPWARD BOUND

Upward Bound is an activity that helps prepare you for college. The group is sponsored by Virginia Tech, and is open to students in grades 9-12. The director is Jimmie Johnson, and Jeannie Smith and Karen Achmer are the counselors for P.H.S. The group meets on the first Thursday of every month at P.H.S. Then they meet at Virginia Tech once or twice a month for tutorials in which you may get help in any three classes, or you may use the college library for research. Not only do you get help in classes, but you also tour college campuses, and you can stay six weeks at Virginia Tech for six weeks during the summer; during the six weeks, you take classes that prepare you for your upcoming year in high school. Participants in this program can get a "head-start" on their next year of high school.

Practice makes perfect!!

The Tazewell County Academic Conference is a three-year-old program in which the four high schools in Tazewell County compete against each other in a college bowl type format. Each high school plays all the other high schools twice, resulting in a total of six matches for any of the four high schools. There are five teams at each school, they are English, Social Studies, Math, Science, and a General Team.

The season this year began on March 13 with the first match, and ended with a special banquet for all participating students.

The team members would like to thank the coaches for taking time to practice with us and all the other teachers for letting us out of class, once in a while, in order to practice.

Headed by director Earl E. Erskine, The Pocahontas High School Marching Band is congratulated for their displays of excellence on the field and in the street. Donning their new uniforms, they have shown us that they have a sense of pride in what they do. In every parade, and in every ballgame, they hold their heads high and march along as if they would be nowhere else. The band represents us, and they do it well. KEEP IT UP!

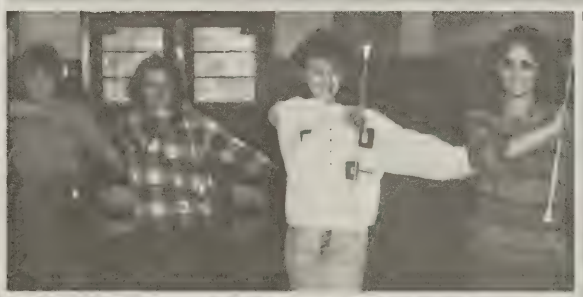
"All that glitters is not gold" . . . in this case it's black and white and orange. The glint of the baton and shimmer of the uniform identify the P.H.S. majorettes. From synchronized routines. to featured twirling, the corps added to halftime performances and parade entries. Long hours of practice lent to the enjoyment we were rewarded with. Our appreciation and admiration!



WE SING THE SONGS

The end result . . .

When we think of choir the first thought is I can't sing, but with Mr. Erskine the members are trying their best and are doing a great job. Most of the time the choir does not get told by the students that we appreciate their singing and think they do a good job. The programs that they have given this year are some of the best given at our school by any group. Keep a song in your heart and a smile on your face.

IN SEARCH OF . . .

Mud covered uniforms and faces . . . Body soaked with rain and perspiration. Young men doing battle to make P.H.S. and themselves proud. While the outcome didn't match the goal, the effort was more than noble. The "beast" did not win, but our football team gave their all.

Under raincoats and umbrellas the lovely ladies beauty could not be subdued. The homecoming court showed nothing but class as they walked onto a rain-soaked field for the pregame coronation. While only one young lady could be queen, eight young ladies deserved the honor. Amidst the anticipation of the crowd and court the 1988 Homecoming queen was crowned by our principal Bessie Walker. Our congratulations and loyalty to Queen Kim Harrison.

Organization, planning and hard work led to a successful and memorable homecoming. Thanks Melinda (Robinett).

The casual dress and relaxed attitudes mask the anticipation of the candidates. The rain didn't even begin to dampen the high spirits and enthusiasm on game night.

KING

Michael Hodge
Junior

It was the night of the dance,and all the members of the court were nervous. Who would be crowned the 1988 snow queen?

The guys were dressed in their suits and the girls in their gowns. The whole court was out for the occasion in their best attire, for no one knew who would become the queen. Each girl began to picture herself as the queen, but each of them also knew that there could be only one queen. The ones who did not get the crown would still be happy for the winner.

Everyone took a deep breath as the announcer began: "The 1988 Snow Queen is . . . Teresa Roberts!"

Congratulations Teresa!!!

The class of 1989 would like to thank the juniors for making their last prom the most memorable night of their lives. The juniors worked very hard on: Tom Watt sales, deciding on prom decorations and the color scheme, organizing groups for decorations, picking out a background for pictures, and choosing a DJ.

A special thanks goes out to Mrs. Wyrick and Miss Kirby for sponsoring the Junior Class and making all the necessary arrangements to insure that the 1988-89 Junior/Senior prom was a memorable night for everyone.

VICTORY IS . . .

Putting Forth Effort

A Winning Attitude

What is victory? To many people victory means winning a game, but in actuality is a combination of a good attitude, effort, skill, determination, spirit, and pride. Through P.H.S.'s sports programs, students have an opportunity to participate in various activities and learn what it is like to be part of a team. They have the opportunity to be part of a victory . . . a self victory.

OUR COACHES

In Search of . . .

A "DIFFERENT" PERSON . . . One who does not conform to accepted standards.

These young men are different people. They do not conform to everyone else's standards. Each of these people have been part of an experience that sets them apart from other students.

When everything comes easy, a person tends to ease up on their effort. When times become tough, a person can easily quit. For these men, it's certain nothing came easy. Equally as certain, though, is the fact that times were almost impossible and no one quit.

Yes, these people are different. They played when their friends were on dates. They practiced when their friends were hunting. They stayed with a commitment while being criticized. They showed determination under the duress of losing almost every game.

Most definitely they're different! The kind of "different" that leaves a person with character.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Through much practice, dedication, and co-operation the girls' basketball team accomplished a great deal this season. Although they didn't take our school all the way to the district championship, these girls did a great job, and every student at P.H.S. can be proud of our Varsity Basketball team.

The student body would like to extend special thanks and appreciation to our seniors. Over the past four years these five girls have worked hard to develop their skills as players.

Thanks to a fine coaching staff and supportive fans, our team excelled at their work. Great job Lady Indians!

DEDICATION HARDWORK

The Boy's Varsity Basketball team should be proud for another good season. As always Pocahontas High School had the best sportsmanship. The scoreboard might not of always showed it, but you are all winners. You should feel good about yourselves. No one knows the work it takes to get ready for every game, no one but the players, of course. So, for giving the faculty and students of P.H.S. a team they could support, and for giving it your best shot, and never quitting . . . Thanks. We appreciate you and all of the other athletes at Pocahontas High School.

Base-ic-ly the lady diamonders have all the elements of winners. Talent, experience and determination.

The members of the softball team work and practice very hard to represent Pocahontas High School in the games they play. They always give 110%. The softball team should know that when they put on that Pocahontas Indians uniform they make us very proud.

of . . . SPIRIT

The Pocahontas High Varsity Cheerleaders have worked toward the goals of increasing student body school spirit and team support while maintaining good sportsmanship. To ascertain these worthy goals, the cheerleaders have made and posted spirit banners, conducted rallies, organized dress-up spirit week, participated in the 1988 Homecoming parade, and last but certainly not least, cheer at all the various sporting events. Truly the cheerleaders at Pocahontas are AWESOME — TOTALLY!!

Tenacious . . . Timid

Definitely and by no means. These girls played with the desire and fury of true winners; not timid to steal a pass, or fight for a rebound or shoot a 3 pointer. Everything did not fall into place in terms of win-loss, but in terms of experience and positive learning. This season should be looked on as the source of future winners. Next year? We're all behind you.

JV BOY'S BASKETBALL

Bitter sweet; the thrill of victory; the agony of defeat. These and many other cliches apply to the 88-89 season. Victories were many in number and exciting to watch and be part of. Losses were few, but costly. The J.V. finished with a 16-5 record, and a 13-2 in the district. Unfortunately the second loss came in the Black Diamond District Tournament at the hands of the champion Hurley Rebels who we had previously beaten twice in regular season. Though disappointed with second place, PRIDE was the ending matter. And indeed, we share the individual pride each player had. Congratulations and thanks for the thrills of a SUPER SEASON.

FRESHMEN BOY'S BASKETBALL

David Farley, Roger Cook, Jason Woodin, Brad Spencer, Shawn Boone, Neal Roberts, Brian Dameron, Donnie Anderson

Throughout the basketball season, this team worked hard in order to make the season a successful one. Though the team did not have a perfect record, they are still greatly admired for the effort that was put forth by all team members. If a game were won solely on the basis of how much blood, sweat, and tears a team puts into a game, then the Freshmen Boy's Basketball team would be national champions. As the old saying goes: "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." Here is to another good season next year.

Team work?!

Oops! Butterfingers!

This year, the Junior High Girl's Basketball team worked super hard to show everyone that they were a winning team. Although the team had few players and little support from the student body, they came out overall with a 5-7 record. Not bad at all! Thank you, girls, for a job VERY WELL DONE!!!

What'd I do?

Even though the team was small, the team spirit was stronger than ever on this year's Junior High football team. These young men got out there and showed everyone the true meaning of the word sportsmanship. Some weeks it was questionable whether or not there was even a team to play, but the ones who had signed up, stuck it out and played excellently. To those who played, we would like to give a big THANKS!!

A GLANCE BACK . . .

A small school, a big dream. The small school student can be at a disadvantage. Fewer class offerings, fewer athletes, fewer, fewer, fewer. But fewer can mean more. More one on one help, more caring, more chance to succeed as an individual. P.H.S. exemplifies these "mores."

The common ground between large schools and small schools is in the method to success. The individual must have the will to "make it." Then and only then can they succeed. Given the setting and opportunity, the formula still holds . . . 1% determination, 99% perspiration.

While all our students and athletes deserve mention and honor, these few have set themselves above the others through their desire and effort. CONGRATULATIONS! And thank you . . . we appreciate all of you and recognize that you've set yourself "A STEP ABOVE."

We shared their disappointment and frustration. We shared their enthusiasm and success.

These people shared the joys of meals out, bus trips, two-a-days, rainy practices, hot gyms, locker room jokes, competition, and helping each other grow into men and women.

Every year the seniors leave behind a part of themselves. The staff and students benefited from what past seniors have left and present seniors leave. Hopefully, we have in turn given them the best of each of us and memories to last a lifetime.

Take Control.

Of your mind.

When everyday pressures make it difficult for you to deal with your feelings, thoughts, relationships and behavior, The Behavioral Medicine Center at Princeton Community Hospital can help set your mind at ease.

Our 24-hour crisis and information hotline is here whenever you need to talk. It's confidential. It's free. We can help.

Call 487-7599, day or night.

And your body.

Classes and meetings, ballgames and dates. With so many things pulling for your attention, sometimes how you feel takes a backseat to things you have to do.

24:Hour ExpressCare at Princeton Community Hospital is a round-the-clock clinic for treatment of minor illnesses and injuries.

With a sprain, a strain, a fever, a "bug", 24:Hour ExpressCare can put you back on the track to good health—fast. No appointment needed.

Now being sick doesn't have to cut into your busy schedule.

The Road Not Taken

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that, the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

— Robert Frost
